WAR HOUSING FUNDS ASKED BY PRESIDENT

$500,000,000 To Meet Minimum Needs Requested from Congress.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 27—President Roosevelt proposed to Congress today the appropriation of an additional $500,000,000 for war housing.

“To meet the minimum needs of the 1,600,000 workers migrating to war centers during the year beginning July 1,”

Congress previously had appropriated $1,020,000,000 for construction of living quarters for war workers.

Cites Higher Employment

Mr. Roosevelt said in a message to Congress that several million persons would be employed in war industries during the next fiscal year. Workers are being obtained locally wherever possible and new sources of labor supply are being drawn upon.

The President asserted, “Yet, he said, it will be necessary for some 1,600,000 to move to centers of war activity.”

Some of these will be housed in existing structures, he said, but others must be cared for through new public construction, largely temporary in nature and designed to serve the low-income brackets of war workers.

Only yesterday the President signed legislation increasing from $500,000 to $550,000,000 the amount of loans which the federal housing authority may insure for construction of housing for defense workers.

WAR PLANT WOMEN PLAN SOCIAL EVENT

“Get-Acquainted” Dinner for 100 Set for June 3.

Social activities for women employees of the War department, the architect-engineer firm of Holcomb & Root and the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co. will be launched with a “get-acquainted” dinner Wednesday evening, June 3, in the ballroom of the Hotel Harding.

Plans for the event were made when a committee representing the women employees of the three organizations met for dinner last night at Hotel Harding. Approximately 100 employees are expected to attend the dinner, which will be followed by entertainment.

The dinner Wednesday evening is only one of the many activities which the women employees of companies building the newly established Scioto Ordnance Plant will engage in the social picture in the city. A study of Marion's recreational possibilities is being made by the committee and golf, tennis and other social affairs and games probably will be scheduled for the coming months.

Plans for the entertainment include music by the Hunkin-Conkey orchestra, led by Walter Reed, vocal numbers by Frank Conroy, also of the Hunkin-Conkey Co., and piano music.

The committee includes the following: Mrs. Lillian Moser, Miss Grace Brown, Miss Frances Donnell, Miss Thelma Griffith of the War department; Miss Margaret Segmund, Mrs. Marilyn Hays, and Miss Julia Ann Holsbaird & Root; and Mrs. Iona Holsbaird, Mrs. Becky Campbell, and Miss Margaret Segmund of the Hunkin-Conkey Co.

Nelson Calls on Plants To Work Memorial Day

WASHINGTON, May 27—Shut-downs scheduled next Saturday in observance of Memorial day in the nation should be cancelled, U. S. Commerce Secretary Nelson said today, because the country cannot afford a lag in war production.

“We can honor our heroic dead by showing that we are as determined as they were to defend our country without counting the cost to ourselves,” Nelson said.

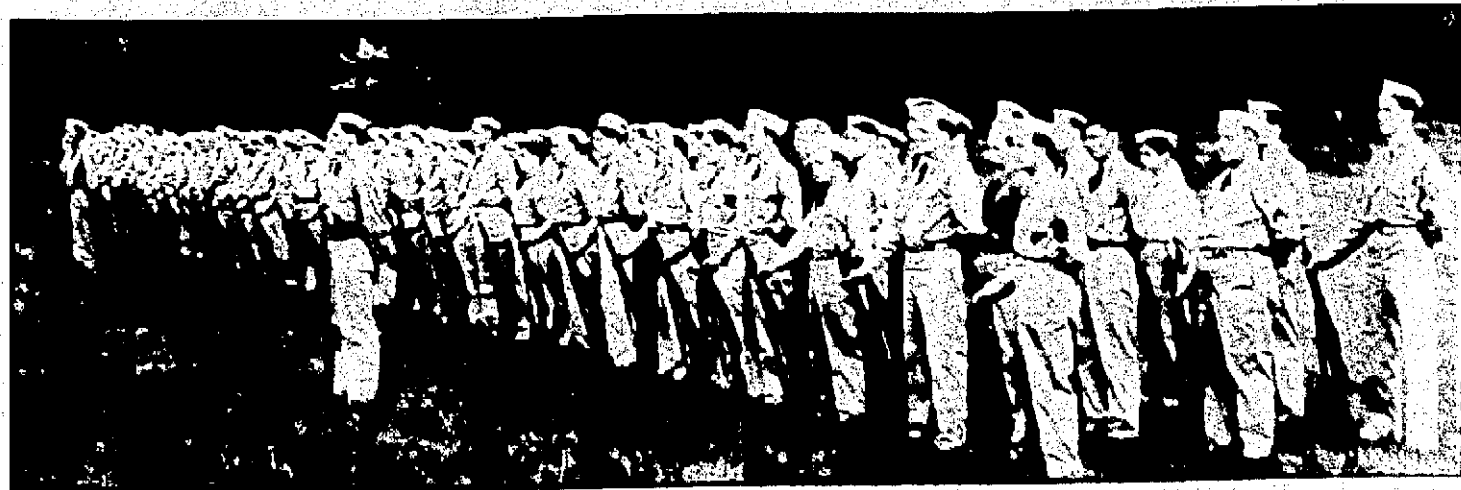

“We cannot honor them by taking a day off,” he said.

MOCK BATTLE PLANS LISTED

Final Arrangements Made for Military Demonstration Saturday Night.

Preparations for the Memorial day mock battle by Marion Rifles at the Harding stadium Saturday night at 7:15 were nearing completion today under the direction of the commander of the civilian military training program, George D. Hildebrandt.

Because of inclement weather, the mass preparatory drill to night at 7:30 will be at the Army post instead of the stadium. It was announced at noon.

A special invitation to attend the demonstration at the stadium is being extended to parents of men in all branches of the armed services and to all the men and women connected with every phase of the Scioto Ordnance Plant construction.

To Honor Mothers

Parents of men in service will be seated in the center of the grandstand and each mother of a man in service will be presented a rose. Members of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, will serve as ushers and will present the roses, gifts from Marion Rifles.

The reviewing stand where Lt. Col. John R. Huling, Jr., commanding officer of the ordnance plant, and his staff will review the battalion parade will be erected on the oval opposite the grandstand.

Major Fred Berg of the Rifles today completed making the flags for the battalion parade preceding the battle.

They are a silk American flag with embroidered stars and a spread eagle atop the staff; the battalion colors, a field of blue with crossed rifles and the words “Marion Rifles” in gold; and an American flag, a field of blue with crossed rifles and the company guidons.

The company guidons, with numbers in gold; and the medical corps guidon, the medical caduceus in gold on a field of blue.

Amulance, Fire Squad

Two regular ambulances will be on duty at the grounds as a part of the mock battle scene and as a practical safety measure, and there will be a fire squad, headed by Capt. J. J. Ryan, of the city fire department, for emergency duty during the fireworks display.

Purchase of the fireworks, which will include aerial bombs and simulated machine gun and rifle fire, was made after a license was issued by Safety Service.

Through the cooperation of Marion financial institutions, refreshments will be provided for every person participating in the mock battle, he said. Approximately $55 for the refreshments has been donated by the Marion County bank, National City bank, Fidelity bank, Home Federal Savings & Loan association, Marion Federal Savings & Loan Co., Marion Auto Finance Co., Marion Loan Co., City Loan and the Economy loan.

At the Marion Rifles drill last night, attended by virtually every member of the three companies and commissioned officers of the Women's Ambulance Corps, two anti-aircraft gun crews, two machine gun crews, two mortar crews and two rifle teams to handle the simulated rifle fire were appointed by the officers.

PAY SOLUTION War Summary SOUGHT TODAY

House To Decide on $42 or $50 Figure for Men in Lower Ranks.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 27—Congress strove today to extricate itself from conflicting army-navy and dependents' allotment-allowance proposals today with the house attempting to decide whether the basic monthly pay of men in the armed services shall be raised from $21 to $42, or to $50.

On the house, action, leaders said, depend the final rates of pay deductions and government allowances for fighting men's dependents and also whether the government would pay part of a service man's life insurance premium.

The house was called to consider a joint conference committee report fixing the base pay at $42. The house previously voted for $50 after the senate had adopted the $42 figure.

Seek Lower Figure

House committee leaders hoped to prevail on a majority on the floor to accept the lower figure. Since the bill provides that the increase would take effect the first day of the calendar month following enactment, they argued that insistence on the $50 rate would send the bill back to conference and prevent the raise from becoming operative in June. They agreed that the $50 figure might carry on a record vote.

Some members have expressed belief it would be “political suicide” to vote against it.

Awaiting final disposition of this measure are different versions of allotment and allowance legislation. The senate military committee approved yesterday a $22 monthly deduction from the pay of men in the four lowest grades of the armed services for dependent wives. The government.

Former Galion Man Fined in U. S. Court

CLEVELAND, May 27—Admitting the falsified wage and hour records to make it appear he was meeting minimum standards, owner Sam Foreman of the Ohio Pad Co. today was fined $2,000 and ordered to pay $4,018 in back wages to 89 employees.

This is the most deliberate violation I have seen as district attorney and since I have been on the bench,” commented Judge Emerich B. Freed, former federal prosecutor here.

The wage-hour administration said the company, which makes shoulder pads and coat interlinings, moved here from Galion, O., last December. Foreman was accused of paying less than 25 cents an hour where federal standards called for a 40-cent minimum.

SIGNS POINT TO BIG AIR DRIVE

More Top Ranking U. S. Officers Reach England for Conferences.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 27—Lieut. Gen. Archon B. Somervell arrived here today to round out the United States military mission conferring with British war chiefs, and London commentators expressed belief a united air assault was planned to blast the way for a future allied landing on the German-occupied continental coast.

General Somervell is assistant chief of staff of the United States army heading the supply division, which is charged with handling the thousands of tons of food, clothing and munitions needed to help any major expeditionary force in the field.

Brigadier General LeRoy Lutes, Charles P. Gross and William C. Lee accompanied him.

Map United Attack

Plans for a combined Anglo-American attack on the axis powers are being discussed,” the Daily Telegraph said. “It can confidently be predicted that one outcome will be a great intensification of the air attack on Germany from the west.”

The Daily Mail said a liaison system “which both the United States and the RAF have stated to be ‘wholly’ acceptable” has been drawn up, providing for separate operation of the air forces, but coordination in strategy such as the selection of bombing targets.

The Daily Express said “the Americans have numbers of dive-bombers,” which many military experts regard as essential to further the air drive.

Cleveland War Plant Pays High Bonuses

WASHINGTON, May 27—The house naval committee was informed today that the Lincoln Electric Co. of Cleveland, O., had handed out bonuses in 1941 ranging as high as $50,000, and that among them was one of $25,000 to a $4,121-a-year plant foreman.

Others running from $3,000 to $8,000 went to $39-and $40-a-week employees. It was testified that the committee, concerned for the community, declared that he was presenting the Lincoln case to demonstrate how there could be “evasion and avoidance” of the excess profits tax through the payment of bonuses and said he would show the need for a “ceiling” on such payments.

Tolen identified the company as the leading manufacturer of welding equipment in the country, and declared that “practically all” of its business in 1940 and 1941 was for the government.

“Send-Off” for Selectees Set To Start at 8 A. M. Tomorrow

Whether anyone from your family is in service, turn out Thursday morning for the first public send-off to the young men going to Fort Hayes for induction was the message today to residents of Marion city and county from Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, sponsors of the program.

Eighty or more selectees from Marion's draft boards will be in the group.

The program will be given at the bus terminal on North State street and from 8 a. m. until the crowd disperses vehicular traffic will be suspended on State street north of Center street.

At 8 the Harding high school band under the direction of Homer E. Huffman, instrumental music supervisor, will begin a half-hour program. The band will meet at 7:15 at Central Junior High school and will march to the bus terminal, preceded by the colors of the Legion post.

Mayor Russell C. Snare will extend the best wishes of the community and Commander E. M. Starnham of the Legion post will give a few remarks.

Women from the Union station canteen will distribute leaflets to all the selectees and the Legion post will give each man a 32-page booklet, “Fall in,” answering pertinent questions of men going into service. The booklet greets “the men who serve today from sons of comrades of 1917-18.”

The draft boards have informed the Legion that they will endeavor to have the selectees at the terminal by 8.

The post citizenship committee, headed by W. E. Choult, is in charge of the program, with all Legionnaires cooperating.

If the public response to the first send-off indicates a widespread desire to make some gesture, an attempt will be made to arrange future programs, according to the committee in charge.

Federal regulation of rents in Marion county by July 1 seems inevitable as a result of new developments today.

The first indication of this came in an Associated Press news dispatch from Washington announcing that federal regulation of rents will be imposed June 1 in 20 war-affected areas which the Office of Price Administration said has failed to take local action. Marion is not in this list of 20, but the action taken regarding them foreshadows what is likely to happen here.

The second development was the comment of Mayor R. C. Snare, upon learning of the new federal order, that Marion landlords are not complying with the March 1 rent ceiling order and consequently are inviting federal regulation. He pointed out that local communities are given 60 days by the OPA to bring rents into line with the ceiling levels.

For the 20 communities affected by the first rent ceiling order the 60-day period has already expired. For a still larger group of cities including Marion, in which rents were later frozen, the 60-day period will expire on June 24. Federal regulation orders are expected to follow almost immediately.

Local Situation Explained

Commenting on the OPA reference to “failure of rent ceiling areas to take local action,” Mayor Snare declared that Marion is virtually without authority to take any regulatory action. The fair rent committee named by the mayor several months ago has suffered some unwarranted criticism from the public because it has not taken more positive action, he said. The committee should not be criticized because it has virtually no authority except persuasion—it can not enforce its orders in any manner except through publicizing the names of persons who fail to follow its suggestions, he pointed out.

The committee has been receiving complaints “every day” and has been “quietly” working with landlords and renters in an effort to bring about a negotiated settlement. The committee is negotiating with landlords to make downward adjustments voluntarily because the committee can't force them to do anything, he said.

In view of the widespread tendency of Marion landlords to ignore the March 1 rent ceiling level, federal regulation of rents by an administrator named by the OPA seems inevitable, Mayor Snare said.

Today's Announcement

Some idea of what Marion and other non-complying communities can expect in the way of federal regulation is contained in today's OPA announcement affecting the 20 cities that OPA administrator C. M. Henderson had placed in defiance of rent control on March 2. Regarding the 20 areas, the OPA said, “In no area was the recommendation as to reduction of rents as high as $50,000, and that among them was one of $25,000 to a $4,121-a-year plant foreman.”

Others running from $3,000 to $8,000 went to $39-and $40-a-week employees. It was testified that the committee, concerned for the community, declared that he was presenting the Lincoln case to demonstrate how there could be “evasion and avoidance” of the excess profits tax through the payment of bonuses and said he would show the need for a “ceiling” on such payments.

Tolen identified the company as the leading manufacturer of welding equipment in the country, and declared that “practically all” of its business in 1940 and 1941 was for the government.

The new levels become effective for every type of housing accommodation, even including trailers, with rent payable for the month of June.

The reductions will be automatic, OPA said, adding that the

RUSSIANS SAY GERMANS TAKE HEAVY LOSSES

Enemy Wedge Is Blunted in Fierce Fighting on South Kharkov Flank.

By The Associated Press

The Russians declared the Red army, smashing through the flank of a German wedge today had brought the Nazi offensive in the Lygum-Rovenkova sector to a standstill in the most important zone.

Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, said tanked Russian infantry, attacking under cover of an artillery barrage, had captured the slope of a hill dominating the battle zone and were now fighting at the gates of a village several miles from their starting point.

Red Star said two Nazi counter-attacks failed to halt the advance.

Soviet reports said the German push was stopped along a river bend where Russian troops (apparently emerged) were described as now enlarging a pocket.

Red Star declared the Germans were suffering “immense losses” in tank battles flaring in many sectors of the 125-mile battle zone, with the Russians matching attacks by Nazi squadrons of 20 to 30 tanks each.

Battle Claims Conflict

Accounts of the 16-day-old battle were in sharp conflict. Moscow reports via Stockholm said the attacking Soviet troops had stopped the main German offensive, with the Red army advancing in “an important sector.”

Hitler's command declared: “The annihilation of Soviet armies encircled south of Kharkov is making rapid progress.”

Meanwhile, London diplomatic quarters noted multiplying signs that the axis was preparing a formidable land and naval move in the Mediterranean.

Speculation centered on the possibility that Adolf Hitler was planning synchronized drives into the Middle East from three directions.

1. From the Crimea or Rostov-On-Don, through the Caucasus.

2. From North Africa into Egypt.

3. Across the Mediterranean from Crete, Greece and the Dodecanese Islands.

German parachute troops were reported training in Crete, and strong Italian garrisons are stationed in Greece and the Dodecanese islands to support any trans-Mediterranean thrust.

Omens of a gathering new attack included:

1. British Middle East headquarters reported that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's North African armies were on the move again, with strong axis troops and tank columns advancing toward the main British defense lines.

Simultaneously, the Italian high command reported intense air activity over the Libyan desert battle theater and an offensive move against Alexandria.

2. Reports of an axis squeeze on France to gain control of the immobilized French fleet.

3. Premier Pierre Laval's discussions with his naval chiefs, and reports that 300,000 Italian troops were massing along the French border, ready to break up Italy's demand upon France for Tunisia, Corsica and Nice.

Countering these reports of axis strategy, London commentators said indications that a mighty aerial assault may be imminent to blast the way for a landing on the German-occupied “invasion coast.”

The belief was further strengthened by the fact that the

By The Associated Press

BERLIN (FROM BERLIN BROADCASTS), May 27—Reinhard Heydrich, acting reich's protector for Bohemia and Moravia, has been wounded in an attempt on his life, DNB reported today from Prague.

DNB said Heydrich's wound was not expected to prove fatal. The dispatch did not specify when the attack occurred. It said, however, that “a reward of 10,000,000 crowns will be paid for capture of the culprit.”

Heydrich, chief of the Gestapo, is “protector” head of the garrisons in the Czech lands, and his death would have far-reaching effects on the German war effort.

Really NEED a New Car? Liberalized rules may let you get one

Who is Eligible to Buy a New Car?

There are seven major classifications for persons eligible to buy new cars under basic rationing rules.

These include persons engaged in the production of war materials or in the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly: physicians, nurses, clergymen, veterinarians; car-owners engaged in public service, such as fire departments, public health, highway maintenance, etc.; owners of taxicabs and other means of transportation; farmers; newspaper wholesalers and traveling salesmen in certain fields.

Your Buick dealer will be very glad to help you determine whether you come under the rules of eligibility. He also will be glad to help you fill the proper applications.

Don't guess about your eligibility — see your Buick dealer now and make sure.

If your work is connected directly or indirectly with the prosecution of the war, you may be eligible to buy a new car—right now.

Under newly liberalized rationing rules it is easier than most people think to replace cars now in use with brand-new, long-lived, gas-thrifty 1942 Buicks.

Maybe you can wash out worries about tire-life by starting afresh with a complete new set — tires that will last longer, if they're on a Buick, because new Broadrim wheels both ease the ride and lengthen tire-life.

Remember, the 1942 models your Buick dealer now has ready for immediate delivery were built to serve you through the duration and beyond.

They are wartime tough, durable beauties built to last, built to go a long, long way with a minimum of upkeep.

So if you're eligible, you may be money ahead getting a new Buick now rather than trying to make an old car "do."

Why not drop in, talk it over and see if the new liberalized rules do not entitle you to a new automobile now?

If you're eligible for a new car — Better Buy Buick!

WAR HARVEST TO FILL BINS

Most Valuable Wheat Crop Since 1937 Soon To Be Gathered In.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 27.—With respect ready to go to work in southwestern wheat fields in a few days, grain men said yesterday the first U. S. wartime harvest since 1918 promised to bring in the nation's most valuable crop since the boom period more than a decade ago, except for that of 1937.

From a marketing standpoint wheat harvesting machines will mean a headache for the grain trade. Since there is less storage than ever before, an embargo on shipments to market for storage already is in force.

This is the first time in grain trade history that such a step has been taken so soon.

The 1942 crop's value, though high, is largely artificial because prices are supported by government action. Due to the war, and to five successive big crops following the 1934-35 drought period, the government has been forced to take control of a big portion of the supply.

As a result, the price around $1.20 a bushel for July delivery is based largely on the fact that two-thirds of the more than 600,000,000 bushels of old wheat to be carried over this year is under government control, while Uncle Sam has promised to loan eligible producers more than 10 cents a bushel above the present price for new wheat to be held off the market.

A year ago wheat was priced slightly less than $1, two years ago around 85 cents. In fact, except for 1937 when wheat sold up to around $1.30, the current price is the best for the date since 1928, when it reached $1.70.

The nation's new wheat crop is now estimated at about 625,000,000 bushels of winter sown grain, not counting spring plantings. Ironically, however, what normally is considered a prime war asset is proving a liability this year.

Agricultural planners did not want such a crop. They tried to hold it down. But mother nature, caring kindly for the smallest acreage in years and nurturing to maturity thousands of acres of so-called volunteer wheat sprouted from scattered seed in last year's fields, crossed them up.

MEXICAN CABINET VOTES FOR WAR AGAINST AXIS POWERS

President Avila Camacho (center) presided over a meeting of his cabinet in Mexico City's National palace when the body decided to ask the Mexican Congress to declare war on the Axis powers as a result of recent sinkings of Mexican ships. The congress is expected to be called this week—probably Thursday—to declare war formally on Germany, Italy and Japan. It would be the first war declaration in Mexico's history.

RENEW THREATS TO AUSTRALIA

Jap Premier Declares Allied Naval Forces Withdrawn from Pacific Zone.

By The Associated Press

Japan's Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo sounded a new threat to Australia today, asserting boastfully that "the naval forces in defense of Australia have disappeared, with nothing standing now to defend that country before the onslaught of the imperial Japanese forces."

Evidently a "fishing expedition" in quest of information, Gen. Tojo's repetition of Japan's claim of victory in the Coral sea battle—discredited by allied accounts—was accompanied by a renewed pledge of Japanese support for the axis.

"Japan will do her utmost to contribute her share as the partner of Germany and Italy," he told the Japanese parliament, in the presence of Emperor Hirohito.

But, as if to dispel the idea that Japan would help Germany by attacking Russia, Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo carefully explained:

"Relations between Japan and the Soviet Union have undergone no change even after the outbreak of war in greater East Asia."

"Enemy countries will, I presume, intensify their efforts to alienate Japan and the Soviet Union, but there is no chance for such intrigues to bear fruit so long as the Soviet Union firmly maintains the attitude mentioned."

Tojo warns India

In addition to his threat against Australia, Gen. Tojo warned India, Gen. Tojo said that British and American troops remain in India, Japan is inflexibly determined to annihilate them.

He said Australia was "now helplessly expecting Japan's attack after the battle of the Coral sea wiped away naval units put up for the defense of Australia."

While Japan's war leaders, thus boasted of future conquests, allied fighting men scored new successes against the invaders on far-flung land and sky fronts.

On China's east coast, in the critical Chekiang province theater, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's armies were reported to have started an offensive in an attempt to hamstring Japanese columns storm the gates of Kinkwa, Chekiang provisional capital.

Chinese dispatches said Gen. Chiang's troops were attacking in the Hangchow-Kasheng-Wuhing sector 100 miles below Shanghai, behind the bases from which the Japanese drive against Kinkwa was launched.

Far to the west, in the Burma-China war zone, the Chinese position along the Burma road was reported sharply improved as Chinese troops continued to push the invaders back from the Salween river and American "Flying Tigers" blasted Japanese bases repeatedly without meeting opposition.

On the Australian front, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that allied fliers attacking over New Guinea destroyed three of 16 Japanese zero planes.

Plenty of Trouble for Allies Lurks in Mediterranean

By The Associated Press

This daily feature, conducted by DeWitt MacKenzie, Wide World war analyst, is being written during his absence for a fortnight by Fred Vanderschmidt.

The Mediterranean situation is full of unpleasant military possibilities, and it would be dangerous to disregard any of them.

Yet the current dickerings of Germany, Italy and the dismal Vichy "government" of Pierre Laval have created such a smokescreen of rumor that it may be well to look at the realities as they are known.

These are facts, as separated from futuristics:

Germany: Her primary preoccupation is and must continue to be Russia. It is, however, to her advantage to immobilize in the western Mediterranean the greatest possible number of United Nations aircraft, warships and "land" forces.

Because of her vast needs in the east, Germany wants to do this (A) by a nerve war by military feints (B) by using the men and equipment of her allies, or vessels, to do as much of the actual fighting as is necessary. She could, of course, use the French war fleet to considerable advantage in the Mediterranean, but the report that she is planning to man them with German crews must be accepted with considerable reserve. It must be remembered she has taken no such action with regard to the hideaway Italian battleships. It is not certain, either, that she has the trained personnel or the oil to spare.

France: Pierre Laval, so far, has actually delivered to the Germans little more than trouble, although that certainly was not his intention. The French generally detest him and regard with dismay the way his regime has antagonized the United States and brought new territorial demands from the internal resistance to "collaboration." Laval has, in fact, proved to France that the Vichy "government" can govern nothing.

Italy: The blackshirts' greed for French territory never has been far below the surface; it was, however, shushed by Germany as long as it appeared that Vichy might be able to arouse some popular French support for "collaboration." Whatever Germany will do about it now, there is no doubt of her anxiety to settle the question. It is keeping at least 200,000 well-equipped Italian troops in comfortable mobilization on the French Alps mountains border, when they might be dying for the "new order" below Kharkov. It is interesting also that Italy, once vociferous for "Tunisia, Corsica, Nice," now has lost her desire for Tunisia, while the French, probably on German suggestion, hint they are willing to discuss.

Why? Corsica and Nice have no military or economic importance to Germany. Should the Italians get little, however, they would be pleased to devote their national energies to "occupying" them. But Tunisia—it is practically in the North African battle zone, which is run 100 per cent by the Germans; an excellent route and reservoir of supply for the desert armies in Libya. The Germans can use an "Italian" Tunisia; they can't be bothered with Corsica and Nice. The Italians know it, too.

BOARD TAKES UP LIBRARY SITUATION

Trustees To Act on Noon's Resignation.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 27—Telephone addressed to the state library board greeted members arriving today for their second meeting in a week to consider the resignation of Paul A. T. Noon as state librarian.

Although contents of the messages were not divulged, library attaches recalled that board members received numerous letters protesting circumstances under which Noon resigned, effective next Monday.

Noon submitted his resignation to Education Director Kenneth C. Ray last Feb. 10 during a dispute over Noon's traveling expenses which Ray termed excessive. The librarian contended the travel was necessary to strengthen the state library system.

Ray told the previous meeting Noon had built a strong organization for self-perpetuation in the $5,000-a-year position to which he was appointed in 1933 during the Democratic administration of former Gov. George White.

Ray, a Bricker appointee, is board chairman by virtue of his position as education director. Two other Republicans and two Democrats comprise the board.

Rowland R. Peters of Bucyrus is a Republican member of the board of trustees.

RUBBER EXPERTS CALLED BY SENATE

Hearings Continue in Face of Gas Rationing Threat.

WASHINGTON, May 27—Put on notice that nationwide gasoline rationing may be the next step in the rubber conservation program, the house interstate commerce committee called on government rubber experts today for an explanation of the situation and what is being done to meet it.

Representatives of the army, the commerce department and other agencies dealing with rubber were requested by Chairman Lea (D-Calif.) to tell how essential needs were being met and would be met in the future. The main purpose of the investigation, he said, was to keep the public informed.

Official predictions say there will be no new tires for civilian use until 1944 at least, and probably not until 1945. However, officials continue to hope for quick development of rubber substitutes to relieve the famine.

President Roosevelt told his press conference yesterday it was necessary to save rubber by methods still to be decided on, but he expressed hope that certain tire substitutes would be available before all the tires now on the road wear out. He said he thought the civilian transportation situation would be worked out satisfactorily.

Answering a question on whether anything was being done to develop a supply of synthetic rubber for non-military use, the President spoke of the need for buses to take workmen to and from war industry plants and said work was in progress on two or three kinds of tires which required no rubber. He said that if people got them and drove 25 to 30 miles an hour they could get to town all right.

STATE MAPS PLANS TO HAUL WORKERS

Extension of Bus Routes in Marion Considered.

The public utilities commission today outlined a broad program of transportation for Ohio war plant workers, including those living in Marion and other cities located near war plants. The Associated Press reported in Columbus.

Marion figured in the PUC program as a result of an application on file requesting a temporary permit for the Marion Rapid Transit Co. to extend its services to the administration area of the Scioto Ordnance Plant. Capt. Robert Lockridge, area engineer, said today the application on file with the PUC also requests permission to extend bus service to the Marion Holding and Reclamation Plant, army depot to be constructed near the southern border of the Scioto Ordnance Plant.

George McConaughy, commission chairman, said Ohio is far ahead of other states in coping with transportation problems arising in getting workers to and from war plant sites.

He said school buses are being approved by the commission for use in many areas, especially the northeastern district, as carriers for workers. Two automobile carriers have been converted into bus trailers for hauling workers in the Akron area, he said. School buses used for transporting war plant workers during the summer months will be granted tires, he added.

Possible use of school buses for Marion's war plant workers has been discussed at different times, but no arrangements for their use here have yet been regarded necessary.

AAA COMMITTEE TO CHECK FOOD PROGRAM

Countywide Meeting To Be Held Thursday at 1 P. M.

A meeting of Marion county AAA township committees will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 p. m. in the American Legion Dugout to determine progress of the Food-for-Freedom campaign in Marion county.

Similar meetings are scheduled throughout the state tomorrow. Officials hope to be able to check the progress of the campaign over the state after assembling results in each county.

Completion of arrangements for registering Marion county farmers for crop insurance for a three-year period will also be discussed. Committee members' wives have been invited to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Ethel Cochran, Marion county farm and field woman, will be in charge of a part of the program. Cecil P. Harper, chairman of the Marion County Agricultural Association, will preside.

RENT CONTROL

restored to Jan. 1, 1941 levels, and in two—including Cleveland—the base date was July 1, 1941.

Area Heads Named

Simultaneously with the rent control action Henderson named 19 area directors to administer the program, and released the maximum rent regulations for all housing accommodations except hotels, rooming and boarding houses. Regulations for hotels and rooming houses will be issued before June 1.

The rules call for the registration by landlords of all rental dwelling units, whether occupied or not, some time in June. The date will be fixed later.

Exemptions to the "automatic" principle are made in cases where the accommodations have been improved substantially, where an unfurnished dwelling is now rented as a furnished one, and where the rents on the base date were affected by relationship or personal friendship between landlord and tenant.

Area rent directors named included these for Ohio:

Maioning-Trumbull counties—James E. Carey of Youngstown; Portage—Francis E. Huffman, Ravenna automobile dealer; Summit—Medina—Halley T. Waller, Akron insurance counselor; Stark-Tuscarawas—John A. Pearl Canton automobile dealer.

SERVICE PAY

ment would supplement this with $28, $40 for a wife and child, and $10 more for each additional child.

The house military committee has approved less liberal family allowances.

Insurance Provisions

The senate committee also provided that the government pay approximately half of a fighting man's life insurance while he is in the service. All men in the services would be required to take out $10,000 of government insurance, the insured putting up 35 cents a month per thousand and the government about 30 cents.

At present, men in the armed services are not compelled to take out insurance, and when they do they pay the entire premium.

A third title written into the bill by the senate committee would authorize the selective service system to group married registrants into categories so as to regulate the order of their call to active duty whenever Class 1-A men are exhausted.

Passage of the dependents' allotment and allowance is expected to pave the way for drafting of married men, but the committee said all 1-A men should be called first.

Opposition to drafting of 20 youths has arisen among senators. Senator Hill (D-Ark.) Senator Shipstead (R-Min.) among those who have made the proposal.

The first draft in the war, in 1917, was of men through 31. The second, in 1918, was of the new 21-year-olds. The third, in September, 1940, was of the great, 18-year-old group and the 23-45 group under 21 and over 35.

trans, 120,157 were inducted into the armistice. There had a total of 2,610,236 men in an army of 4,000,000.

For this war there is an army of 7,000,000 or 8,000,000. Selective service registration to the outbreak of war, enrollments of more than 600 men between 21 and 31, first wartime registration, 15, added more than 1,000,000 to the roll and brought all men between 20 and 45, 13,000,000 of the noncombatant 15 age category signed April 27.

Estimate Number

The June 30 registration 20 year-olds is expected about 3,100,000. Of this 600,000 will have reached 20 since the last roll and hence will be eligible for military service.

For the present, men will be reasonably sure of a draft call in 1942. The chance was given by Herndon in an address to members of the Harvard forum at Cambridge, Mass.

The selective service act said there was a pool of manpower available for the war's needs with going into the 3-A's—the dependents.

The senate military committee yesterday recommended class 3 include only two registrants with wives or or wives and children, and with purely financial dependency dependency allowance considered.

The committee held the two groups should not be until all 1-A men have been drafted.

Satchel Paige Won't Hurl Usual 150 Games

DALLAS — Leroy (Satchel) Paige, a pitching symphony in ebony, missed his winter trip to Cuba and Puerto Rico so that means he probably won't hurl his usual 150 games this year.

The negro star, rated by many as the greatest pitcher who ever threw one down the alley, now is on an exhibition tour beginning his sixteenth season in baseball.

Paige's stomach was acting up or he would have gone to Cuba, Puerto Rico and South America in order to get in a full year in the game. That's how he does it: winter down there; spring and summer with the Kansas City Monarchs, world champion negro club.

The Satchel thinks nothing of working two games in one day. Once he pitched three and won them all.

He's a Work Horse

No fretting about the weather, no worrying about his arm, no complaining about working out of turn. The Satchel can pitch every game on the schedule.

Fishing Notes

Bass are striking at Indian lake and several nice catches were made last week. Lucien Burke took one that weighed five pounds. J. A. B. Wagner, superintendent at West Jefferson schools reports good bass fishing in Little Darby.

Loet Lake also is providing some good fishing.

Big crappies are biting on Seneca lake. There is also good channel catfishing in the Little Miami river in Warren county.

Here is another record Ohio bass. Park Holloway of Columbus took it at Guilford lake. He states that at the close of a rather uneventful day of trying for bluegill and crappie, he placed a large job of bait on his No. 7 hook, threw the line as far as he could and almost immediately had a strike that nearly pulled him in to the lake. After 15 minutes of skillful angling he landed the whopper. It was over 18 inches long and weighed six pounds, 12 ounces.

Holloway is mighty proud of his catch and intends to enter it in the current contests.

Several muskies and walleyes have been taken already this spring from the Muskingum river and Meigs creek in Morgan county.

There have been some nice catches of rock and black bass in White Oak, Big Eagle and Straight creeks. These streams have some of the best bass fishing in Brown county.

Buckeye lake has given up some unusual catches of bluegills this season, some of the fish surprising old-timers for their size.

Kenton Author Given Commission in Navy

KENTON, O., May 27.—President Franklin D. Roosevelt today made ready to report to the Quonset Point naval air station in Rhode Island after being commissioned a lieutenant, aviation volunteer specialist, U. S. navy reserves. He passed his final physical examination in Toledo Monday after being called to active duty.

Mr. Macchietani, whose appointment is one of only 15 specialist commissions that have been granted by the U. S. Navy since the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor last December, will report at Quonset Point June 17 for an indefinite period of training.

The new officer is a graduate of Ohio State university in 1930, received his master's degree in fine arts there in 1935, has written two books on Alaskan life and has illustrated a number of other books. He also is an ardent amateur photographer. He is the son of Mrs. Ella Macchietani, Kenton.

Two Schools Consider Combining Departments

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., May 27.—Mt. Victory and Ridgeway schools may combine their vocational agriculture departments and their music departments for the 1942-43 school term, it was indicated following a joint meeting of the two boards of education Tuesday.

The move was approved by County Superintendent F. C. Ransdell who said one vocational teacher and one music instructor should be able to handle duties at both schools, located three miles apart. Scarcity of qualified teachers was given as one reason for consideration of the plan.

What Human Body Can Take

Work is the keynote of the nation's thought and effort at the present time. The physiologist has certain definitions about the capacity of the human body for work and the different kinds of work it can do. An understanding of these might help to mitigate some of the arguments that are being bandied back and forth.

The physiologist says that work is done when a force moves a mass against resistance, when one form of energy is transformed into another. The human muscular system is essentially no different from any other machine in that it transforms one form of energy into work. It is different in that it is hooked up with the nervous system which the machine does not have and which causes it to show fatigue in a certain length of time.

The physiologist distinguishes three kinds of muscular work: maximal, heavy and moderate. Maximal muscular work cannot be maintained continuously. It is defined as the amount of work which yields an average metabolic rate of eight or more times the basal metabolic rate. That is to say about 12,000 calories. Maximal muscular work can be done for a short period of time, as in very vigorous sports, but not for rest periods is imperative. It is rarely required, however, in industry.

Heavy work is defined as the amount which yields from three to eight times the basal metabolic rate. It has been suggested that this can be maintained for eight hours. This includes the heavy manual jobs in agriculture, building trades, mining, heavy industry and forced marches with a heavy load. The person performing heavy work has a reduced margin of safety in regard to heat dissipation and heart action.

To enforce heavy work for an eight-hour period is not economical. The story is told of two officers at the front who, for a friendly wager, competed in making equal lengths of trench, each with an equal squad of men. One let his men work as they pleased, but as hard as possible. The other divided his men into three sets, each working five minutes and resting ten. The latter easily won.

Moderate muscular work is defined as the amount which yields less than three times the basal metabolic rate. This is the usual category of work that most laborers in industrial plants perform. There is little or no drain on reserve muscular energy. The increase in oxygen consumption, heart rate and blood pressure are slight. Fatigue occurs during the performance of this kind of work on account of the hook-up with the nervous system, which I mentioned above.

All these forms of work produce fatigue for different reasons and we are naturally interested as to how this fatigue is produced, how it can be prevented and what form of recuperation is considered most scientific and physiological.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge Gives Watson and Trooper Money for Expenses. Then Is Warmly Greeted by Ronald.

I KNEW that it would be of no use to protest my father's decision, although I felt supremely foolish to be pointed out as in need of medical attention. So I sat perfectly still while Dr. Twitcheil crossed to my chair, looked intently at me, felt my pulse and slipped a thermometer under my tongue.

"I'm afraid you're 'nutcrack' in your judgment," Dr. Twitcheil said. "You're not ill, but in need of medical attention, except a tablet or two, and a prescription to get some sleep as soon as you can."

He opened his bag, put a few white tablets into an envelope and gave them to me.

"One every two hours until you go to bed," he said, then turned to my father, who was looking somewhat dourly at him. "But who, stickler for discipline as he is, did not contradict the doctor."

Ready for Diswell

"Where's my next patient?" he asked, and my father bowed in his most winning manner to Professor Diswell.

"I am sure you will be more comfortable in the adjoining apartment," he said, "and there the physician will have a better opportunity to examine you, Professor Diswell, Dr. Twitcheil."

He turned then to Jack.

"Charles, please bring your master to the next apartment," he said. "Are you ready, Dr. Twitcheil?"

"Quite ready," the physician answered. Then the four went out of the room, my father first pausing long enough to hand me a small billfold, which I knew contained money to recompense Jim Watson and the state trooper.

I turned to the two as soon as the others had left, and spoke quickly, gratefully.

"I never shall be able to thank you adequately for what you both have done," I said earnestly.

Madge Gets Notes

"It wasn't anything," Jim Watson said quickly. "I'm mighty glad of this chance to get down to New York. I haven't been here in ages."

"I'm glad of a chance to get away from the regular grind, too," the state trooper said. "Would you like those notes now, Mrs. Graham? They really said very little, but I put down every syllable they uttered."

"I am sure I can read them," I said.

This, however, I will take up in the article tomorrow.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. R.—Can anyone have hardening of the arteries and yet not have high blood pressure? Is a gynaecologist a result of hardening of the arteries?

Answer: Yes, to both questions.

and took the two pages of long hand which he held out to me. I read them through quickly and gave my verdict instantly.

"They are like point," I said. "For myself, I simply am going to offer you my very grateful thanks for what you have done."

I said, "But my father, in charge of all this business, has commissioned me to hand you your expenses for your stay in the city tonight and your return to Connecticut."

I opened the billfold, saw that my father had put two tens and two fives in it, with a piece of paper bearing the inscription in large letters: "Fifteen for each." Taking out the money, and tucking the paper out of sight, I handed them the bills, saying in answer to the protest I saw in their faces:

"This isn't pay. We never can pay you for your help. It's simply expense money. My father could not permit you to pay your own expenses while rendering us such a signal service."

Jim Watson eyed the bills whimsically.

"Some expenses, I'll say," he drawled.

The young state trooper looked embarrassed.

Greeted by Ronald

"I'm paid anyway, you know," he said. "I ought not to take this."

"I'm afraid you have no choice," I said firmly. "My father is a hard man with whom to argue. He likes his own way and insists upon having it. So please have a good time with it."

"Well, do that," Jim Watson said. "Isn't there something more we can do for you first?"

"Yes, a thing," I told them. "We'll be getting along then."

Watson said, and with cordial good-byes they went out into the night, as I turned back from the door to face Ronald.

"Oh, Aunt Madge!" he said. "It seemed as if you never would come back. I've wanted to see you so."
